COMMUNITY EVACUATION GUIDE

- PREPARE NOW
- KNOW WHAT TO DO
- KEEP INFORMED

Tla'amin Nation

Tišosəm (T'ishosum), the modern community of the Tla'amin Nation, boasts a semi-rural vibrant coastal indigenous community rooted with thousands of years of history and culture on the shores of the Salish Sea.

Tla'amin Nation self-governed Treaty Settlement Lands are abundant in fish, shellfish, wildlife and forest resources. These lands and waters possess unique risks to residents and visitors that may cause an evacuation.

Most emergencies are small in scale, but some have the potential to escalate quickly such as a wildfire, which could impact everyone's safety, like the 1918 wildfire that caused the evacuation and devastation of Tišosəm. It is crucial that everyone understands the risk and does their part to prevent fires.

The dedicated members of the Tla'amin Nation Volunteer Fire Department regularly respond to fires and medical first responder incidents. In some instances, you may be warned of evacuation allowing a day or two to prepare, while other situations might call for an immediate evacuation. When possible, leadership will incorporate traditional Indigenous knowledge and culturally appropriate best practices during an evacuation.

PREPARE AND SHARE YOUR PLAN

Take time with family, Elders and neighbours to make and share emergency evacuation plans. Your plan should reflect the uniqueness of your home's location, mobility of all household members, and identify at least two options to get you and your household members to a safe location. Refer to the included map for evacuation routes.

Make plans with friends and family members outside of your community that can offer you and your household members accommodations or act as a contact point for family reunification. Keep the phone numbers and addresses of these locations handy. Make this relationship reciprocal by offering your support to others in the event of their evacuation.

Know What to Do.

BEFORE an Evacuation

- Prepare an evacuation grab and go kit now
- Develop a household emergency evacuation plan that includes how you will leave and where you will go
- Practice your plan at least once a year and update it as needed

DURING an Evacuation

- Evacuation notification may be delivered by door-to-door notice, Community Notification System, emergency vehicle sirens or local radio broadcasts
- Follow instructions and advice of notifications and emergency responders to locate evacuation routes and safe locations within the timeframe specified
- Notify emergency responders if you or anyone in your household requires mobility assistance
- Prepare your home: Turn off and unplug all appliances. Lock up your home. If you have been instructed to do so, turn off all utilities at the main switches or valves including propane and water
- Take your grab and go kit and last minute items
- Take your pets and pet evacuation kit
- Refrain from using your phone except in case of an emergency. Leave the network open for emergency personnel use

AFTER an Evacuation

- Register as an evacuee. Registration instructions will be announced in the evacuation notification including how to access supports
- Stay connected and informed of current evacuation situation and when it is safe to return
- Upon your return, inspect your home cautiously and check for damage and hazards
- Call your insurance company: Document damage with photos and written notes, keep records of clean up and repair costs, as well as, hotels, meals, and travel expenses
- Clean your home as recommended by health officials

This map is for reference only - Evacuation route and direction will depend on location, size and type of emergency situation.

Know the THREE KINDS of Notices:

EVACUATION ALERT tells you to prepare for an evacuation and be ready to leave on short notice.

EVACUATION ORDER tells you to evacuate immediately. This may happen in circumstances where there is little or no time to notify, or following an Evacuation Alert.

SHELTER IN PLACE tells you to take immediate shelter and stay in the home or building where you are.
