January, 2020

From the Area C Director....

I hope the holidays have been pleasant and given you a chance to enjoy time with friends and family. The weather hasn't exactly been stellar, but there was enough snow in the mountains to do a little sledding, which is always a fun time.

December started with the annual Lang Bay Seniors' Turkey Dinner. My thanks go out to the crew that volunteers to put on that annual event – the community spirit displayed is always exciting. Later that same week I met with the Stillwater Community Advisory Group (CAG) – our first time in six months. The Stillwater CAG meets with Western Forest Products on a regular basis to keep abreast of their operations in our area and to confirm that they are meeting the standards set by the Canadian Standards Association. As most of us know, WFP has workers on strike right now, but they were consulted before the meeting occurred to make sure they approved of the meeting taking place. One of the main topics of discussion was the Old-Growth Strategic Review that's being conducted by the provincial government. The results of this review could potentially impact the local logging industry significantly, which is why WFP Administration and the workers on strike were in agreement that the meeting would be beneficial to the members of the CAG by providing us with more information to go on when we submit our responses to the survey. I encourage everyone to participate in the Old-Growth Strategic Review, which can be found at <https://engage.gov.bc.ca/oldgrowth/>. The qathet Regional District Board will be submitting a response to the survey as well.

The Powell River Public Library Board had our regular monthly meeting, but we also met with staff for an all-day strategic planning session. The meeting was good for team-building and to confirm where the staff and board feel that the library sits in our community – what part we play, the types of programs we offer, and identifying our priorities. I feel that the day was very beneficial and focused our energies for the upcoming year. Again, I encourage all of you to take part in events at the library and utilize it for all the services it offers.

At the regularly-scheduled Regional District meetings we spent a bit of time preparing for the upcoming year. Meeting schedules were decided upon, board appointments were made, and a review of the directors' remuneration was approved. It won't change significantly, but it will be done more efficiently in order to save staff time. If you have more interest in the topics discussed at the meetings please refer to the qathet Regional District website, www.qathet.ca, for meeting agendas and minutes.

Looking forward to a great 2020!

Clay Brander, qathet Regional District
